SEVEN PAC-12 TEAMS IN THE POSTSEASON

• Five Pac-12 teams have earned NCAA Tournament bids for the third-consecutive year, a first for the history of the Conference which dates back to 1986-87, and four home sites for the first and second rounds. ARIZONA STATE and OREGON STATE were each rewarded with a No. 2 seed, the highest seeding in the history of each of the programs. UCLA earned a No. 3 seed, STANFORD received a No. 4 seed and WASHINGTON is a No. 7 seed.

• In addition to the five NCAA teams, OREGON and UTAH earned WNIT bids, each hosting a first-round game. Each has had breakout seasons, returning to the postseason after short absences.

• For the first time ever, the Pac-12 has four teams ranked in the final Associated Press' top 15. It is also the second-straight year and only the fourth time ever the Conference has had four teams in the final polling. OSU earned its highest-ever final ranking at No. 6. UCLA is No. 10 in the poll, followed by No. 11 ASU and No. 13 Stanford.

• The Beavers host a first and second round for the second-straight year and make their eighth-all-time appearance in the postseason event. OSU's third-straight appearance matches a program best, dating back to 1994-96.

• In the Sioux Falls Region, ASU is making a third-straight trip to the Big Dance, their best streak since going five years in a row from 2005-09, and 14th appearance overall.

• The Stanford campus has hosted 62 NCAA Tournament games since 1982. It has also appeared in the postseason event every year since 1988, a streak of 29 years and 30 years overall.

• UCLA makes a return to the NCAA Tournament after winning the WNIT last year. The have posted the program's fourth 20-win campaign in seven years, each one of those seasons resulting in a NCAA Tournament bid.

• The Huskies made a return to the NCAA Tournament last year for the first time in eight years. This year, they are making back-to-back showings in the tournament for the first time since 1997-98. UW has recorded its fifth-straight 20-win season, its longest streak since posting seven 20-win campaigns from 1985-1991.

• CALIFORNIA's Kristine Anigwe was named a finalist for the USBWA National Freshman of the Year honor. UO's Jillian Alleyne, UCLA's Jordin Canada, UW's Kelsey Plum and OSU's Jamie Weisner were among the 32 candidates listed for the WBCA's Wade Watch. The Wade Trophy is presented to the nation's top-collegiate player.

OREGON STATE WINS PAC-12 TOURNAMENT CROWN

SEATTLE (AP) -- A year ago, Oregon State was an upstart program on the verge of becoming a new powerhouse in the West, only to fall flat in both the Pac-12 and NCAA tournaments. Toughened by those failings of a year ago, No. 8 Oregon State rolled to its first Pac-12 tournament title on Sunday night in part because of a confidence that was absent in the past.

Sydney Wiese scored 18 of her 21 points in the first half while Oregon State built a 27-point lead and Ruth Hamblin added 23 points and a career-high 20 rebounds in a 69-57 win over No. 12 UCLA to claim the conference tournament title. After winning at least a share of two straight regular-season conference titles, the Beavers (28-4) capped off their first conference tourney title and earned the automatic bid to the NCAA tournament with a dominant first-half performance.

Wiese was the instigator, hitting four 3-pointers in the first half as Oregon State raced to a 44-17 halftime lead. Hamblin dominated the inside, making 10 of 14 shots and nearly outrebounded UCLA as a team.

Pac-12 player of the year Jamie Weisner added 19 points and Oregon State became the fifth different school to win the Pac-12 Tournament title, although Stanford remains the only school to win more than one. Oregon State is also the first No. 1 seed other than Stanford to win the tourney title.

Last year's conference tournament was supposed to cap Oregon State's ascent to the top of the Pac-12, but the Beavers were surprisingly bounced in the quarterfinals by No. 9 seed Colorado and then in the second round of the NCAA Tournament by Gonzaga.

Committed to making up for last year's shortcomings, the Beavers withstood a late challenge from Washington in Saturday's semifinals before taking care of the Bruins. Oregon State coach Scott Rueck said the team gained determination from last year, when the Beavers won the Pac-12 regular season outright before their tournament failings.

Jordin Canada led UCLA (24-8) with 17 points and Kari Korver added 10 points for UCLA, but the Bruins shot just 24 percent in the first half and were 2-of-16 shooting in the second quarter.

Wiese and Weisner combined for 23 of Oregon State's first 30 points. The Beavers took a 30-15 lead on Wiese's third 3-pointer of the first half, and that was the start of a 17-2 run over the final 5:40 of the second quarter that led to a 44-17 lead. UCLA pulled within 63-54 late in the fourth quarter after a five-point possession, but the Beavers answered with layups by Weisner and Hamblin to end the comeback.

PAC-12 ALL-CONFERENCE HONORS (COACHES VOTE)

PAC-12 PLAYER OF THE YEAR - JAMIE WEISNER, OREGON STATE
Senior guard Jamie Weisner (Clarkston, Wash.) is the first OSU player to win the Conference's player of the year honor since Felicia Ragland was voted Pac-10 Player of the Year in 2001. It is the fourth citation for the program and Weisner is the third Beaver to earn the honor after Tanja Kostic won the award in 1995 and 1996. Weisner ranks fourth in the Pac-12 with a 17.0 points per game average, and her .478 shooting percentage is sixth and tops among Pac-12 guards. Her 87.7 percent shooting from the free throw line also ranks eighth in the country. Voted the Pac-12 Player of the Week on Feb. 22, she is the seventh player in OSU history to surpass 1,500 points and currently ranks in the top 50 in Pac-12 history in scoring, tallying over 1,600 career points. Her most impressive performances have come in Oregon State's biggest games of the year, tallying 12 of 18 points in a comeback win at Stanford, helping OSU snap a 29-game losing streak to the Cardinal. She also had 25 points against Arizona State and UCLA this season, as the Beavers also claimed a second-straight Pac-12 regular-season title, sharing it with the Sun Devils. Weisner is named to the All-Pac-12 team for the second-straight year, also earning honorable mention all-defensive team honors.

PAC-12 FRESHMAN OF THE YEAR - KRISTINE ANIGWE, CALIFORNIA
Kristine Anigwe (Phoenix, Calif.) is the first Golden Bear to win the Pac-12 Freshman of the Year award since Alexis Gray-Lawson won the award in 2006. Anigwe was voted the Pac-12 Freshman of the Week a Conference-record eight times, winning the recognition in seven of the first nine weeks of the season. Second in the Pac-12 in scoring with a 20.3 points per game average, she is the second-highest scoring freshman in the country and ranks in the top-30 among all players. In the Pac-12, she also ranks sixth in rebounding (8.9 rpg), second in field goal percentage (.563), sixth in free throw percentage (.741) and 10th in blocks (1.14 bpg). Her 11 doubles-doubles this season are also tied for fourth in the Conference. Nationally, she ranks 20th in the country in field goal shooting, and her 149 free throws made and 201 free throw attempts are the 14th- and 11th-most in Division I women's basketball this season. She is the 18th player in Conference history to be named All-Pac-12 as a freshman.

PAC-12 DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR & SCHOLAR-ATHLETE OF THE YEAR - RUTH HAMBLIN, OREGON STATE
Senior center Ruth Hamblin is the first-ever Beaver to be voted the Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year in the nine-year history of the award, becoming the third player in Pac-12 history to earn the honor multiple times. She joins the ranks of former All-American Stanford's Chiney Ogwumike and WNBA and former Arizona State star Briann January. Now a two-time All-Pac-12 honoree, Hamblin is leading the Conference and ranks eighth in the country with 3.41 blocks per game. One of two players in Pac-12 history with multiple 100-block seasons, she is on the verge of becoming the only player in league history to record triple-digit block seasons three times, as she enters the Pac-12 Tournament with 99 stuffs on the year. The NCAA's active career leader in blocks, her presence in the paint has the Beavers limiting opponents to just 51.0 points per game on the season, the lowest opponent scoring average in the Conference and seventh in the nation. With Hamblin leading the way, OSU is also tied for first in the country with a 6.6 blocks per game average. A third team Associated Press All-American last year, she averages 11.4 ppg and 9.0 rpg, which ranks 20th and fifth in the Pac-12, respectively. Hamblin needs just eight blocks to tie the Conference's all-time record.

Off the court, Hamblin has been equally as impressive, posting a 3.85 grade point average while majoring in mechanical engineering. She is one of 30 candidates for the Senior CLASS Award, also earning a spot on the CoSIDA Academic All-District 8 team. Last year, she was named to the CoSIDA Academic All-American third team and recently helped to build and launch a rocket 21,750 feet into the air as part of a class project.

JOHN R. WOODEN PAC-12 COACH OF THE YEAR - KRISTINE ANIGWE, CALIFORNIA
In her 19th season at the Sun Devil helm, head coach Charli Turner Thorne earns the Pac-12 Coach of the Year honor after leading ASU to a share of the Pac-12 regular-season title and a top-10 national ranking for most of the season. It is the second time in her career she earns the award, the last time coming in 2001, the only other year the Sun Devils have won the regular-season Conference crown. ASU has won 16 Pac-12 games this season, tying a program record, and is 25-5 heading into the postseason. It is the team's third-straight 20-win season and fourth in five years. Turner Thorne is the second-winningest coach in Pac-12 history and has won over 400 games in her 22 seasons as a head coach. This season, an ASU-record three Sun Devils have been named to the All-Pac-12 team (Sophie Brunner, Elisha Davis and Katie Hempen) and Davis was one of five players named to the All-Defensive Team.

BEAVERS CLAIM FIRST TOURNAMENT TITLE

Senior center Ruth Hamblin had 23 points, a career-high 20 rebounds and five blocked shots (a Tournament final record) to lead No. 7 Oregon State to a 69-57 victory over UCLA in the championship game of the Pac-12 Tournament. It was the first title in school history for the Beavers, who fell to USC in 2014 in their only other championship-game appearance. It was also their 18th win in the 19 games leading up to the final. Jamie Weisner was crowned the Tournament's Most Outstanding Player, the first in Beaver history to earn the award.

PAC-12 REGULAR SEASON CO-CHAMPIONS

In an intense final weekend of regular-season play with several upsets, OREGON STATE and ARIZONA STATE each claimed a share of the Pac-12 regular-season title. The Beavers reclaimed their title after winning the league last year, also grabbing the No. 1 seed in the Pac-12 Tournament by virtue of tiebreaker. The Sun Devils claimed their first regular-season title since the 2000-01 campaign. This year's co-champions marks the sixth time in Pac-12 play where teams have shared the league crown.

TWO FEATURED IN ESPN'S "SUPER SOPHOMORE SEASONS"

UCLA's Jordin Canada and UTAH's Emily Potter were among the 10 ESPN.com featured as sophomores who had breakout seasons. Last year's Pac-12 Freshman of the Year as voted on by the league's coaches, Canada led the Bruins back to the NCAA Tournament, nearly doubling her assist-to-turnover ratio and adding five points per game to her scoring average. Potter bounced back from a season-ending injury last year to earn a spot on the All-Pac-12 team this season by improving her points, rebounds and blocks totals by 50 percent. With her lead, the Utes more than doubled their league win total and have surpassed last year's total wins, earning a spot in the WNIT.

PAC-12 TEAMS IN THE POLLS

Four teams are ranked in the final Associated Press poll. It is the second-straight year the Pac-12 has four teams in the final top-25 as voted on by the writers and just the fourth time overall. OREGON STATE earns a No. 6 final ranking, the highest final ranking in the history of the program. UCLA is No. 10 in the final poll, followed by No. 11 ARIZONA STATE and No. 13 STANFORD. WASHINGTON received votes.

Heading into the postseason, the Beavers are also No. 6 in the USA Today/WBCA Coaches poll. The Sun Devils are No. 11 in that polling, with the Bruins earning at No. 12 rankings and the Cardinal is No. 16.

Five league teams were ranked in the AP poll from the week of Nov. 30 to the week of Jan. 11, it was the longest stretch of that many Pac-12 teams ranked in league history. Prior to that, five teams had been ranked in the AP on Nov. 13, 2006 for two weeks. Seven different Pac-12 teams earned a national ranking in one or both polls this season.

PAC-12 IN THE NATIONAL STATS

As of Mar. 14, WASHINGTON's Kelsey Plum is averaging 26.2 points per game, the third-best average in the country. One of the most prolific scorers in Pac-12 history, the junior became the fastest player to reach 2,000 career points in Pac-12 history.

Despite having a career-ending injury, OREGON senior Jillian Alleyne recorded double-doubles in the majority of the games she played in her career, including 23 this season which is second most in the country.

ALLEYNE BECOMES ALL-TIME LEADING REBOUNDER
Senior forward Jillian Alleyne pulled down 15 boards to become the Pac-12's career rebounding leader on Jan. 17, 2016, surpassing the mark set by former Stanford great Chiney Ogwumike. Alleyne is also ranked fourth all-time in NCAA history.

USC head coach Cynthia Cooper-Dyke picked up her 200th career victory on Jan. 4 against Oregon. On the same day, WASHINGTON STATE head coach June Daugherty, who has been a head coach for 27 years and has logged over 400-career wins, picked up her 100th on the WSU sidline against Colorado. She is the first coach in Conference history to win 100 games with multiple programs (Washington).

Several other coaches have reached significant milestones in just this season alone. ARIZONA STATE head coach Charli Turner Thorne won her 400th on Dec. 14 against Hartford, then reached her 200th career Pac-12 victory on Feb. 21 against Washington. She has been roaming the sidelines for 22 seasons, 19 of them in Tempe.

Both COLORADO coach Linda Lappe and OREGON coach Kelly Graves claimed milestone victories over the Thanksgiving break. Lappe, in her sixth season at her alma mater, picked up Division I-win No. 100 on Nov. 27 in a win over Massachusetts, while Graves, who is in his second season in Eugene but has logged 19 seasons on a Division I sideline, picked up his 400th the following day on Nov. 28. With the Beavers' victory over USC on Jan. 2, OREGON STATE head coach Scott Rueck picked up his 100th Division I win.

ALL-STAR RETURNS
Coming off a season where five Pac-12 teams earned NCAA Tournament bids for the second-straight season, the Conference looks to be as competitive as ever thanks, in part, to the return of eight of the 15 All-Pac-12 honorees from 2014-15. Defending regular-season Pac-12 Champion OREGON STATE has the most all-Conference honorees returning, welcoming back three, including the 2014-15 Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year in SR C Ruth Hamblin.

NEW FACES & FAMILIAR FACES
The 2015-16 campaign welcomes a new face. New to the Conference is Utah's head coach Lynne Roberts. Roberts landed in Salt Lake City by way of the University of the Pacific. Last year she was named Co-West Coast Conference Coach of the Year after leading the Tigers to a 21-10 record.

Roberts joins an impressive cast of coaches across the 12 schools with a collective 146 years of experience. Leading the way is Hall of Fame head coach Tara Van Derveer, who will be on the Stanford sideline for her 30th season and 37 years for her career. ARIZONA STATE's Charli Turner Thorne also boasts more than 20 years of experience, entering her 22nd season as a head coach and 19th with the Sun Devils. WASHINGTON STATE head coach June Daugherty is logging her 27th season as a head coach, nine of which have been spent in Pullman. Just shy of 20 years of coaching is OREGON's Kelly Graves, who has been on the sidelines for 19 seasons, including two in Eugene.

ROAD TO INDIANAPOLIS
Teams across the country will be focused on getting to Indianapolis this season, the site of the 2016 NCAA Women's Final Four. To get to Indy, teams will have to go through regional site at Bridgeport, Conn., Dallas, Lexington and Sioux Falls, S.D. The first and second round of the tournament will take place on 16 campus sites with the top-16 seeds hosting.
