

Leadership Development Opportunities for Athletic Administrators

NCAA Leadership Institute

Sports Management Institute

2019-20 ACADEMIC YEAR

DIVERSITY LEADERSHIP INITIATIVE REVIEW COMMITTEE (DLIR)

The charge of the Pac-12 DLIR Committee is to improve the participation rate of Pac-12 member institutions in quality leadership development programs that are currently available for ethnic minority male and female athletics administrators.

As one of the initiatives, the DLI Program funds the annual participation of four athletics administrators in either the NCAA Leadership Institute or the Sports Management Institute Executive Program.

Institutions are limited to one nomination each year.

DIVERSITY LEADERSHIP INITIATIVE PROGRAM

Four individuals will be selected annually to participate in either the NCAA Leadership Institute or Sports Management Institute.

NCAA Leadership Institute

Nominations are due to the Conference Office no later than March 1, 2019. The NCAA has the final authority in accepting the final candidates into the NCAA Leadership Institute.

Sports Management Institute

Nominations are due to the Conference Office no later than March 1, 2019.

NCAA DR. CHARLES WHITCOMB LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

The Dr. Charles Whitcomb Leadership Institute provides tailored programming to assist ethnic minorities in strategically mapping and planning their careers in athletics administration by providing professional development programming over the course of a calendar year, which includes two, one-week programs at the beginning and conclusion of that year.

Eligible applicants should be able to demonstrate skills and experience in at least two of the following areas: university, conference and NCAA administration; strategic planning; budget management; fundraising; university and NCAA compliance; student-athlete welfare issues and initiatives; diversity and inclusion issues and initiatives at all levels of college athletics; and human resources and performance management within an organization.

Institute Dates: July 13-21, 2019 - Tampa, Florida

Institute Cost: The Diversity Leadership Initiative Fund will cover all travel, lodging and meals, not covered by the NCAA, for participation in all workshops.

How to Apply: Complete online application (link below) and send resume and a letter of recommendation from a current supervisor or director of athletics to Tammy Newman (tnewman@pac-12.org) by March 1, 2019. Please include your office email address and phone number(s).

Nomination deadline is March 1, 2019. Resume and a letter of reference must be submitted. The final candidates will be determined in April 2019.

Once selected by the Pac-12 DLIR Committee, the final candidate(s) must complete the NCAA application process no later than March 11, 2019, via the NCAA Program Hub. The NCAA has final authority to approve or deny candidates. Online application available at:

SPORTS MANAGEMENT INSTITUTE EXECUTIVE PROGRAM

www.sportsmanagementinstitute.com

Any racial or ethnic minority staff member at the assistant athletics administrator level (or above) at a member institution's athletics department may apply.

2019-20 Program:

June 16-21, 2019: Hosted by the University of North Carolina

January 16-18, 2020: Hosted by the University of Georgia

The institute will assign each student a six-month project in conjunction with his/her employer. Each student will work in close contact with an appropriate faculty advisor during the project. Projects will be presented and reviewed, and students will take part in a formal certification ceremony.

Management Institute Costs: The Diversity Leadership Initiative Fund will pay the SMI tuition, all travel, lodging and meals for the participants to attend each session.

How to Apply: Complete online application (link below) and send resume and a letter of recommendation from a current supervisor or director of athletics to Tammy Newman (tnewman@pac-12.org) by March 1, 2019. Please include your office email address and phone number(s).
