PAC-12 WEEKLY RELEASE

PREVIEWING THE WEEK:

Another slate of top-25 matchups highlight the last week of non-conference play. Pac-12 Baseball is looking to continue its four-game ranked win streak this week as No. 2 UCLA and USC both take on 2019 College World Series Champion No. 5 Vanderbilt and No. 18 TCU this week in the Southern California Baseball Classic, while California hosts No. 20 Michigan on Wednesday at Evans Diamond (6 p.m. PT). Pac-12 Networks will broadcast the finale of the Southern California College Baseball Classic featuring a non conference competition between USC and UCLA on Sunday, March 8 at 3 p.m. PT.

NOTABLES:

- STANFORD recorded the league's third upset of the season on Tuesday as the Cardinal's sixth-inning surge led to a 4-3 victory over then-No. 11 Michigan.
- UCLA registered three ranked wins last week recording a perfect 3-0 record in the Frisco College Classic. Then-No. 8 Bruins defeated then-No. 17 Oklahoma State (8-1) and then-No. 21 Texas A&M (10-2) while in Texas.
- Seven Pac-12 teams earned series wins last week including sweeps by OREGON and UCLA. ARIZONA STATE and WASHINGTON STATE both sealed the deal with wins Friday and Saturday, while Stanford, USC, and WASHINGTON clinched victories on Sunday.

BY THE NUMBERS:

- UCLA currently owns the country's top mark in ERA (1.43) and its three shutouts this season are the third-most in the nation.
- Arizona State's Spencer Torkelson is off to a hot start this season as he leads the country in walks (26) and has the third-most runs (19) in the nation. The junior's slugging percentage (0.944) and on base percentage (0.635) are both good for the fifth-best in the country.

PAC-12 NOTES

IN THE RANKINGS:

The USA Today Preseason Coaches Poll features two Pac-12 teams, both in the top 15. UCLA earned a No. 2 ranking this week after recording its best season start since 2010 with a 10-game win streak before falling to UC Santa Barbara on Tuesday (8-5). Arizona State comes in at No. 13 this week after its third series win of the season as it took two-of-three from Nebraska (13-5, 14-1, 10-18).

PRESEASON NODS:

The Pac-12 has nine total preseason All-America selections from three different schools. Four student-athletes were named to all five preseason All-America lists, including Arizona's Austin Wells, Arizona State's Spencer Torkelson, and UCLA's Holden Powell and Garrett Mitchell. Junior infielder Torkelson was selected first team for all five lists, and was also named the 2020 Collegiate Baseball Projected Player of the Year. Junior pitchers Erik Tolman of Arizona State and UCLA's Powell were selected to NCBWA Stopper of the Year Preseason Watch List.

GOLDEN SPIKES:

The Pac-12 is home to nine Golden Spikes Award winners, leading all other conferences, after former Beaver Adley Rutschman claimed the league's second-consecutive award last season. Six Pac-12 student-athletes were named to the 2020 Golden Spikes Award watch list, including consensus pre-season all-americans Arizona catcher Austin Wells and Arizona State infielder Spencer Torkelson. The list is further highlighted by fellow Sun Devil infielders Alika Williams and Gage Workman, and UCLA outfielder Garrett Mitchell and right-handed pitcher Holden Powell. Since 1978, USA Baseball has honored the top amateur baseball player in the nation with this award, given each year to the player who best exhibits exceptional on-field ability and exemplary sportsmanship.

STOPPER OF THE YEAR:

The Pac-12 has two student-athletes on the 2020 NCBWA Preseason Watch List, including 2019 NCBWA Stopper of the Year UCLA's Holden Powell and sophomore Erik Tolman of Arizona State. The NCBWA presents the Stopper of the Year Award to the top relief pitcher in Division I baseball for the 16th straight year at the College World Series on Saturday, June 13, 2020.

MLB DRAFT

Seventy Pac-12 student-athletes were selected in the 2019 MLB Draft, including former Oregon State catcher Adley Rutschman who was selected with the No. 1 overall pick by the Baltimore Orioles, giving the Conference an NCAA-best seven No. 1 overall draft-picks. For the eighth-straight year, all 11 league programs had at least one player drafted. Additionally, the Pac-12 averaged 6.36 student-athletes drafted per team, the best average of any conference. The Conference had three picks in the top 10 for the first time since 2006 with California's Andrew Vaughn being selected with the third pick and Arizona State's Hunter Bishop chosen with the 10th pick. UCLA's 13 selections are tied for the most of any school in the nation. After UCLA, Stanford had the second-most picks in the Pac-12 with nine, followed by California, Oregon State and USC with seven selections apiece.

PLAYER/PITCHER OF THE WEEK

PLAYER OF THE WEEK - Quentin Selma, Jr., California

Matt McLain was named the Frisco College MVP after going 8-17 in the tournament with a home run and seven RBIs to help the Bruins outscore their opponents 40-6. He also notched a career-high four hits and matched his career-high with four RBIs on Sunday versus Illinois

PITCHER OF THE WEEK - Zach Pettway, Jr., UCLA

Zach Pettway earned his second-consecutive weekly honor tossing seven shutout innings against No. 16 Oklahoma State on Friday night as UCLA won its Frisco College Classic opener 8-1, to help the Bruins maintain their perfect season record (11-0). He gave up only two hits and walked just one, just his first walk of the season.

Arizona State picked first in 2020 Pac-12 Baseball Preseason Coaches Poll

SAN FRANCISCO - In a poll of Pac-12 Baseball head coaches, ARIZONA STATE has been selected as the preseason favorite to win the Conference title for the 2020 season. This is the fourth time in program history and the first since 2010 that the Sun Devils were chosen to win the Pac-12, which was also the last time ASU clinched the Conference crown.

Arizona State, which is ranked in the top 13 in every preseason national poll, received seven first-place votes and 96 points to edge runner-up and defending league champion UCLA, which amassed 89 points and the remaining four first-place votes.

The Sun Devils are coming off their first postseason appearance since 2016 after they started last season with a 21-game win streak, the second-best start to a season in Pac-12 history, en route to a 38-19 overall record and its most wins since 2011. ASU is loaded with talent with five returning 2019 All-Conference performers, led by two-time All-American Spencer Torkelson, as well as the nation's No. 8 ranked recruiting class. Torkelson led the Conference in home runs last spring with 23, bringing his career-total to 48, four shy of entering the league's career top-10.

UCLA is coming off arguably the most successful regular season in program history in which it went 52-11 to set a new school-record for wins while posting the Bruins' best winning percentage (.825) since 1924 and earning the No. 1 overall seed in the 2019 NCAA Tournament. Despite having a program-record 13 selections in the 2019 MLB Draft, UCLA returns 21 student-athletes including All-Conference outfielder Garrett Mitchell and 2019 NCBWA Stopper of the Year Holden Powell, both of whom were tabbed Collegiate Baseball First Team Preseason All-Americans. UCLA will begin the season ranked No. 8 in the USA Today Preseason Coaches poll and in the top 14 of every preseason national poll.

STANFORD was picked third in the poll with 81 points following a 2019 season in which it recorded 40-or-more victories (45-14) for the third consecutive season. David Esquer enters his third year as head coach after guiding the Cardinal to 91 wins the past two seasons, its first Pac-12 championship in 14 seasons in his debut campaign and its first NCAA Super Regionals appearance since 2014 last season. Stanford will enter 2020 at No. 15 in the USA Today Preseason Coaches poll.

ARIZONA placed fourth with 70 points and is returning 2019 Pac-12 Freshman of the Year and consensus Freshman All-American catcher Austin Wells. OREGON STATE, ranked No. 25 in the USA Today Preseason Coaches poll, was voted fifth with 66 points entering its first season under head coach Mitch Canham, while WASHINGTON came in sixth with 49 points.

CALIFORNIA and USC tied for seventh with 45 points and OREGON tallied 35 points for ninth. Utah was tabbed 10th with 16 points, and WASHINGTON STATE totaled 13 points for 11th.

The 2019 Pac-12 baseball campaign begins Friday, Feb. 14 with all 11 teams competing. Pac-12 Networks will broadcast over 83 baseball games this season. For more information, including a full TV schedule, please visit www.pac-12.com.
