

2017 PAC-12 WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Post-Game Notes

GAME 10: #2 Stanford (71), #6 Oregon (56)

Saturday, March 4, 2017

Stanford advances to the Tournament championship game for a record 14th time (in 16 Tournaments), where it will play #1 Oregon State. The Cardinal has won 11 of the 13 title games it has played in. It will attempt to become the first #2 seed to capture the title.

Tonight's attendance of 8,384 is the highest ever for a Tournament semifinal session and second overall (9,686 last night).

This was the first Tournament match-up between Stanford and Oregon.

Tomorrow night will feature the seventh #1 vs. #2 match-up in Tournament history (first since 2012). The #1 seed has won every game (each time Stanford).

Oregon led by 9 (25-26) after 1 quarter. Its largest lead over Stanford in two regular season games was one point.

Sabrina Ionescu (Ore.) scored in double figures for the third time in the Tournament (3-game total – 54). Maite Cozorla scored 14 points in the game for the 5th time this season.

The Cardinal has distributed the scoring, with only Brittany McPhee scoring in double-figures in both Tournament games.

Stanford's Erika McCall now has 13 double-doubles this season. Her 15 rebounds were the second most she had this season. Kaylee Johnson picked up her first double-double of the season (9, career). Briana Roberson had double-figure points for the 8th time this season.

The Cardinal followed up its 8 blocked shots performance on Friday with 10 blocks tonight. The 10 equals a Tournament single game record (twice – once by Stanford vs. USC on 3/8/14). With one game to go, 18 blocks ties for 4th place in a single Tournament.

The Ducks' Lexi Bando fouled out of the game for the first time this season.
