Oregon's 57 points scored were a season low (62-67 loss to OSU, Feb. 18).

Stanford's Dijonai Carrington (14, 14, 22) and Alanna Smith (15, 21, 20) scored in double figures for the 3rd time in the Tournament. MOP Smith also had double-digit rebounds in each game (15, 12 and 14)

Cardinal Anna Wilson played a season high 27 minutes.

Oregon's Sabrina Ionescu had her best scoring game of the Tournament with 27 (18 in each of two previous games). For the 3 games, she averaged 21 pt/gm, 10.7 reb/gm and 8.0 ast/gm.

Stanford held Oregon to its lowest scoring 1st quarter of the season (11); the Ducks shot 4-17 (.235) from the field. Dijonai Carrington paced Stanford with 8 points in the quarter.

Oregon's 24 1st half points were a season low (27, at Oregon State, 2/18/19). Carrington scored again 8 points, giving her 16 for the half. Ionescu scored 13 points and grabbed 7 board in the half.

Alanna Smith earned her 12th double-double of the season (3rd of Tournament) with 9:14 to go in the 3rd quarter. After committing only 1 turnover in the 1st half, the Cardinal turned the ball over 6 times in the 3rd quarter. Oregon held the Cardinal to .214 shooting in the quarter and took a 42-41 lead into the 4th quarter.

For the third time in the Tournament, Stanford cooled down the opponent's hot hand coming into the Tournament . . . Cal's Kristine Anigwe (14 points on 4-15 shooting), Washington's Missy Peterson (11 of 14 from three point range in first two games limited to 0-6 and 0-8 overall against the Cardinal), and tonight, Oregon's Ruthy Hebard ( 24.5 pts/gm and 11.0 reb/gm coming into the game . . . 13 points and 5 rebounds tonight.)

Ionescu added to her career Tournament assists record, finishing with 59.

Six starters in tonight's game also started in the 2018 finale (Oregon: Sabally, Hebard, Cazorla, Ionescu; Stanford: Smith and Williams).
